There are many designers and creative individuals with excellent ideas and products ready for mass production. On designspray now all designers, artists and creative people, who have something to sell, can register for free and sell their products via the shop. It is also possible to find a manufacturer for thought-through ideas. The designer benefits from the synergy effect created, the joint marketing activities and PR. And he saves on the equipment and costs for his own shop. The customer purchases directly through the designer and gets to know the creative individual behind the relevant product. Thanks to the joint forum there is a huge selection of wonderful and individual products.
